

Activity

SORT IT OUT!

Math is fun with friends and candy! This sweet sorting activity is sure to make you smile!

Materials

1 bag of candy (or assorted colorful objects)

Flat Surface

Writing tool

Paper

Instructions

Step 1: Pour the candy on the flat surface

Step 2: Sort the candy in groups by color

Step 3: Count the candy in each color group. Write down the number of candy pieces in each group.

Step 4: Answer the questions below

Step 5: If you used candy, enjoy! If you used objects, put them away.

Which color group had the Least pieces of candy? Most?

How many pieces of candy do you have altogether?

Malik

THE MATHEMATICIAN

Malik loves to play with numbers and figuring out how to make things work better even outerspace. He is really smart and makes the world a better place.

Fill in the blank

MATH IS ___!

HINT: Rhymes with run, sun, and bun.

What other careers can Malik choose?

Talk About It

Look at the definitions below and talk about them.

Addition means to add more.

Subtraction means to have less.

Multiply is when others are sharing with you.

Divide is when you are sharing with others.